

BOOKLET 2

HOW TO SEAL OLD CRIMINAL CASES

STEP ONE. Get a copy of your criminal record which is called Criminal Record Offender Information (CORI). See Booklet 1 if you do not have a copy of your CORI report.

STEP TWO. Look at your CORI report and figure out if you have old convictions or other cases which might be sealed by mail.

IMPORTANT. If you are not a United States citizen or have immigration issues, or are living here without legal documents, you should not seal your record without the advice of an immigration attorney.

Most misdemeanor or felony convictions from a Massachusetts state court can be sealed by filling in a form and mailing a Petition to Seal to the Commissioner of Probation after a waiting period.

A misdemeanor is a crime punishable by a maximum term of 2.5 years of incarceration even if you do not go to jail or serve the maximum sentence.

A felony is a crime punishable by more than 2.5 years of incarceration even if you do not go to jail or serve the maximum sentence. Your CORI should say by each charge if it is a misdemeanor or felony. A list of common offenses is included in this booklet to help you figure out which cases on your CORI might be sealed if your CORI does not say what type of case it is.

Basic rule. You are eligible to seal a conviction after a waiting period of 5 years if it is a misdemeanor conviction, and after 10 years if it is a felony conviction provided that:

- You have no new conviction(s) (except motor vehicle convictions with a fine not greater than $50) during the same period in or outside Massachusetts; AND
- you did not serve a jail sentence during the same period in or outside Massachusetts, AND
- you are not now required to register as a sex offender.

Convictions. For any conviction, the waiting period starts from the date you were found guilty OR released from incarceration—whichever is later. For example:

- Jae was found guilty of a misdemeanor on May 4, 2007, was on probation for a year, and his case was closed on May 15, 2008. He can seal it by mail on May 4, 2012 – 5 years after he was found guilty.

Every time you are convicted or incarcerated, the clock re-starts to add another 5 years for a misdemeanor, and 10 years for a felony.

For example:

- Pat was found guilty of misdemeanors on May 1, 2011 and on May 1, 2012, but did not go to jail. She cannot seal either case until May 17, 2017 – 5 years from the last conviction.

Greater Boston Legal Services, 197 Friend Street, Boston, MA 02114

- Jack was found guilty of a misdemeanor and given a 1 year jail sentence on May 4, 2009. He was released from jail on June 4, 2010. He can seal his record by mail on June 4, 2015 – 5 years from his release from incarceration.

Non-convictions. If you were found “not guilty” or your case was dismissed, or the District Attorney dropped the case (a “nolle prosequi”), the 5 or 10 year waiting period runs from the date of this “disposition.” For example:

- Joe’s misdemeanor case was dismissed on May 4, 2011. He can seal it by mail on May 4, 2016. If he does not want to wait that long, he can ask a judge to seal the case. Courts can seal dismissed cases or cases that ended in a nolle prosequi (a prosecutor dropped the case) or a not guilty finding without a waiting period. See Booklet 3 in this series.

Exception for a CWOFF (Continuance without a Finding). If your case was dismissed after a CWOFF, the waiting period starts on the date of the CWOFF, not the later date of dismissal. You still use the same waiting periods depending on whether the case was for a felony (10 years) or a misdemeanor (5 years). For example:

- A judge entered a CWOFF in Conrad’s felony case on May 10, 2012, and his case was dismissed on May 10, 2013. He can seal it by mail on May 10, 2022. If he does not want to wait that long, he can ask a judge to seal the case. Courts can seal a dismissed case without a waiting period. See Booklet 3 in this series.

Exceptions with Longer Waiting Periods.

Restraining order violation convictions. A conviction for violation of an abuse prevention or harassment prevention order is treated as a felony for purposes of sealing records. It has a 10 year waiting period.

Sex offense conviction. The waiting period for sealing of sex offense convictions that are sealable is longer than for other types of convictions. Any conviction for a sex offense that required registering with the Sex Offender Registry is not eligible for sealing until 15 years after the very last event in the case, including the end of supervision, probation, or release from incarceration.

Convictions That Can Never Be Sealed.

Sex Offense by Level 2 and 3 Sex Offender Status. If a person is or was ever registered as a Level 2 or Level 3 sex offender, he or she can NEVER seal convictions for certain sex offenses (i.e. rape of a child, assault with intent to rape, drugging a person for sex and other offenses as defined by Section 178C of Chapter 6 of the Mass. General Laws). But the person can seal other types of cases that are eligible for sealing once he or she is no longer required to register as a sex offender.

Public Justice Crimes and Other Exceptions. Other convictions which can never be sealed include:

- Some firearms convictions, including but not limited to selling ammunition or a gun without a firearm license, or buying a gun from an unlicensed dealer (G.L. 140, §§ 121-131 H:); or
- “Crimes against the Public” convictions including but not limited to resisting arrest, perjury, witness intimidation, or aiding escape from jail (G.L. c. 268:); or

- State ethics related convictions such as bribes to public officials (G.L. c. 268A).

IMPORTANT. Even if you have a conviction that can never be sealed, you can still seal other types of cases that are eligible for sealing. Also, if your case for one of these never sealable crimes was dismissed or there was a “not guilty” finding or a nolle prosequi (dropping of the case), the case can be sealed. Only convictions for these charges can never be sealed.

Tips that might help you:

- If you have a conviction for an offense that is no longer a crime such as possession of an ounce or less of marijuana, it can be sealed immediately using the same form under Box 4 unless the elements of the charged offense are a crime under a different designation. We suggest you talk to a lawyer about sealing a case like this because the change in marijuana law is still new.
- If you have old non-convictions such as dismissed cases or cases that ended in a “nolle prosequi” (a dropped case) or a “not guilty” finding that are at least 5 years old if the cases are misdemeanors, or at least 10 years old if the cases are felonies, these cases can be sealed at the same time using the same form if you have had no other convictions during the same time period.
- Juvenile records can be sealed using the same form if all juvenile cases closed at least 3 years ago, AND:
 - You have no new juvenile adjudications or convictions (except motor vehicle convictions with a fine not greater than $50) during the last 3 years, and
 - No juvenile commitments or imprisonment in the last 3 years in or outside Massachusetts, and
 - You are not required to register as a sex offender for the offense. (G.L. c. 6, § 178G):

These “aged out” juvenile cases can be sealed by checking off the first box on the same form used to seal adult convictions.

STEP THREE.

It is a good idea to get certified copies of the records before sending in the form to seal your records. You might need copies of the criminal record you seal in the future. For example, if you are not a citizen, you will likely need certified copies to apply for citizenship at a later time. If you apply for a job with the federal government (U.S. Census, Social Security Administration, IRS, etc.), the FBI often has a record of the fact that a criminal case was filed without information about the outcome. You can use the certified copies to explain what happened in your case without going back to each court to unseal each case that you sealed.

STEP FOUR.

Fill out the PETITION TO SEAL form and mail it to the Commissioner of Probation, One Ashburton Place, Rm 405, Boston MA 02108. A model form is attached. Please carefully fill out your address, including an apartment number, because the reply letter will be mailed to you at this address.

STEP FIVE.

You will get a reply by mail from the Commissioner of Probation within a few weeks telling you if your request to seal your record was approved. If the petition is denied, seek legal advice from an attorney about your rights.

AFTER THE RECORD IS SEALED

The “Ban the Box” law prohibits most employers from asking about convictions on an initial job application whether or not the record is sealed.

If an employer wants to know if you have a criminal record after all your cases are sealed, you may answer “I have no record.” G.L. c. 276 §§ 100A. However, sealed criminal records may be used against a person by a court if the court imposes a sentence in a future criminal court case. G.L. c. 276, § 100A-C.

RESOURCES FOR LOW INCOME PEOPLE

- If you live in the Boston area, call the Legal Advocacy & Resource Center (LARC) at 617-603-1700 or Greater Boston Legal Services (GBLS) at 617-371-1234. If you live in the Boston area, you’ll be screened for eligibility for an intake for GBLS.
